Join the IGHS Antiracist Book Club!

We welcome you whenever we start a new book. To join, fill out the affinity group survey and accept the Outlook invite by January 31.

Next book

Between the World and Me by Ta-Nehisi Coates

Meetings for this book

- Feb 4: Part I, p 5–74
- Feb 18: Part II, p 75–135
- Mar 4: Part III, p 136–176

"The IGHS book club is a safe place to discuss challenging topics such as caste, racism, and unconscious bias. Through sharing of personal experiences we are able to heal, become better versions of ourselves and make changes to the way we operate in public health."

– Maggie Lam

"The book club has been a gift. It enables me to connect with IGHS colleagues in warmth and with respect, as we delve into critical and often challenging material."

– Mylo Schaaf

About the book club

Our intention is for the book club to be a safe space where we can have deeper, more probing conversations about racism and white supremacy at IGHS and beyond. Some may be just starting to have these conversations and developing awareness about ourselves and society. Others may be stepping into more active ally roles or advocating for change. Each person’s engagement looks different, and that is ok!

We meet every two weeks on Thursdays from noon–1:15. We will break out into affinity groups if there are enough participants.

Purchase books at African American-owned bookstores, or support your local bookstore by ordering through Bookshop.org.

Questions/concerns?

Email anika.kalra@ucsf.edu, heidi.frank@ucsf.edu or kerstin.svendsen@ucsf.edu.